Clarksville, TN – The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints recently dispatched a tractor-trailer load of food and supplies to Loaves and Fishes and Manna Cafe, two local organizations dedicated to serving families and individuals experiencing food insecurity.

The shipment, which originated from Church headquarters in Salt Lake City, delivered more than 30,000 pounds of non-perishable food and hygiene products.

The donation was a part of the church's nationwide initiative to provide food to every state in the country.

"Receiving this food donation will really make a difference as we head into the holidays. We are grateful to The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints for their support of our community," said Ken Shipley, board member of Loaves and Fishes.

Loaves and Fishes and Manna Cafe split the shipment, which will be used to facilitate their hot meal programs and food distribution to local families.
